HBA of Colorado Springs Earns Three National Awards

The Association is recognized for its innovative initiatives in 2015

COLORADO SPRINGS – May 10, 2016 – The Housing & Building Association of Colorado Springs (CSHBA) is the proud recipient of three Association Excellence Awards for 2015, presented by the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB). CSHBA won awards in its size category for the following:

Best Council Development Program & Best Association Operations Program Administered
“Investing in the Next Generation of Leaders” is a CSHBA Emerging Leaders Program which was created to identify and develop emerging leaders within the membership who understand the depth and breadth of the Association at the local, state and national level. The program contributes to their professional development by helping them understand their individual leadership style and the importance of good governance, among other goals.

Best Workforce Development Plan Implemented
“Careers in Construction (CIC)” is an initiative of CSHBA and the Association of General Contractors. CIC gives high school students pathways to success in the building trades. The program provides curriculum-based training that introduces students to the tools and basic skills for plumbing, electrical, HVAC and carpentry, which may lead directly to a career.

CSHBA will receive plaques and in-person recognition for the awards at the 2016 Association Leadership Institute taking place July 12-15 in San Antonio.
