Housing & Building Association of Colorado Springs Installs 2019 President Todd Anderson

COLORADO SPRINGS – November 16, 2018 – The Housing & Building Association of Colorado Springs (CSHBA) continued its 65-year tradition of electing distinct industry leaders to represent the most influential association in the Pikes Peak region. Todd Anderson, President of Shepherds Staff Consulting, was installed as the 2019 HBA President at the association's Annual Membership Reception & Board Installation, held Wednesday, November 14 at Cheyenne Mountain Resort. George Hess III, 2007 HBA President, was chosen to install Anderson.

"We are extremely thrilled to have Todd step into the role of president" said CSHBA CEO Renee Zentz. "Todd has plenty years of experience in our industry and his leadership skills will serve our association and community well."

The HBA's 2018 President Mike DeGrant, Vice President of Development at Schuck Communities, moved into the position of Immediate Past President, and Carrie Bartow of CliftonLarsonAllen, LLC was installed as the President-Elect. Joe Loidolt (Classic Homes), Mark Long (Vanguard Homes), Tye Tutt (Nor'wood Development Group), and Chris Jorgensen (La Plata Communities) were builder members elected to the Board of Directors. Ally Jencson (Frontline Floor Coatings) and John Radcliffe (Galloway & Company) were associate members elected to the Board of Directors.

Recognized at the reception were 16 volunteer Chairs of the various committees and councils of CSHBA. Also recognized were the 9 graduates of the 2018 Emerging Leaders Program and the 15 candidates of the 2019 Emerging Leaders Program. Together, these and other members of the Association provided critical support to the building industry with more than 10,000 volunteer hours in 2018. CSHBA's membership represents more than 500 companies. The achievements of our members and the volunteer time they contribute not only serve to further the HBA's mission to keep housing affordable, but give strength to the housing and building industry in our local community as a whole.

About the Housing & Building Association of Colorado Springs

Homes are a cornerstone of the American dream and a major driver of our economy. The Housing & Building Association of Colorado Springs (CSHBA) was founded in 1950 as the voice of the homebuilding community and associated trades. We advance best practices, advocate for attainable housing, contribute expertise to regional development issues and serve our community through our workforce initiatives and HBA Cares programs.
